DESCRIPTION

The RA position sensing set adds upper-position sensing to the HP 2/L handling unit in the special design with turret stop (for example Somatec). A travelling M12x1 sensor takes over position sensing in place of the cylinder switch. It is intended for fixture and special-machine construction in assembly technology.

- Travelling M12x1 sensor for reliable sensing of the upper positions at the turret stop
- Pre-assembled components for simple mounting on the base plate
- Matched to the HP 2/L special design with turret stop
