DESCRIPTION

The Bosch Rexroth leveling foot spindle is the adjustment element of modular leveling feet in aluminium profile system construction. It compensates for height differences and uneven floors and transfers the load from the profile frame to the foot. Made of stainless steel, it suits hygienically demanding and ESD-relevant environments.

- M16 thread for a high load capacity up to 30000 N
- 80 mm adjustment range for levelling
- Stainless steel, corrosion resistant and ESD-capable
- Suitable for profile slot 8 and 10
