DESCRIPTION

The base plate PA D29 is the floor-side element for leveling feet in the Bosch Rexroth aluminum profile system. It holds the spindle of the leveling foot, helps compensate floor irregularities and spreads the load onto the ground. It is intended for users who need to set up frames, machines or workstations in a stable and secure way.

- Plastic plate made of polyamide (PA), corrosion-free and electrically insulating
- Screw hole in the plate for direct fixing to the floor
- Combines with the matching spindles of the leveling foot system
- Suitable for profile slot 8 and 10
