DESCRIPTION

The 50x100 ESD cover cap closes exposed connection bores and bracket joints in the Bosch Rexroth aluminium profile system. Made from ESD-safe polypropylene, it prevents electrostatic charge build-up at the assembly point - a key requirement for workstations and production lines operating under IEC 61340-5-1 ESD protection protocols. The black finish maintains a uniform appearance across the structure.

- ESD-safe PP material: prevents electrostatic discharge at connection points
- Precise fit for 50x100 gusset bracket geometry
- Protects open bores from dust, contact and mechanical damage
- Lightweight, corrosion-resistant polypropylene construction
- Pack of 20 for efficient stock management
