DESCRIPTION

The W1452 oval-head screw in M4x18 mm is a genuine Bosch Rexroth EcoSlide accessory, combining a low-profile head with the high clamping force of strength class 10.9. The Torx T20 drive allows precise torque application in aluminum profiles and plastic components without cam-out risk.

- Low oval head - minimal clearance requirement alongside adjacent EcoSlide guide elements
- Strength class 10.9 - high clamping force for a compact M4 fastener
- Torx T20 drive - efficient torque transfer, reduces tool slip during tightening
- Galvanized steel - corrosion protection suited to industrial assembly environments
- Pack of 10 - convenient stock quantity for assembly line use
