DESCRIPTION

The housing element 3842552601 shields the underside of the Bosch Rexroth HD 2/H transfer system against mechanical impact and contamination. Dimensioned for workpiece pallets of 240 mm x 240 mm with a 180° opening angle, it integrates directly into straight line configurations of the HD 2/H series. Protection above the conveying level is not included and must be planned individually.

- Precise fit for HD 2/H workpiece pallets 240 x 240 mm
- 180° opening angle for straight-line system integration
- Protects drive components and mechanics below the conveying level
- Part of a modular housing range covering multiple pallet sizes and angles
