DESCRIPTION

The housing element 3842552618 is a protective enclosure for the Bosch Rexroth HD 2/H transfer system. It guards the assembly below the conveying level against mechanical impact and external interference. The 640/640 mm, 180° variant matches workpiece pallets of the corresponding length and width; protection above the conveying level requires individual configuration per application.

- Fits workpiece pallet size 640 x 640 mm
- 180° design for straight conveyor sections
- Protection below the conveying level against contamination and mechanical influences
- Part of the modular HD 2/H housing series - combinable with other sizes and angles
