DESCRIPTION

The housing element 3842552619 fits the Bosch Rexroth HD 2/H transfer system and provides reliable enclosure of the area below the conveying level for a 640 mm x 800 mm workpiece pallet. It protects drives, guides and mechanical components against chips, dirt and accidental interference from outside.

- Matched to workpiece pallet size 640 mm x 800 mm (IWT x bWT)
- 180° opening angle for full lateral access during maintenance
- Encloses the zone below the conveying level - no separate base protection required
- Protection above the conveying level must be configured individually per application
- Combines directly with other housing element variants across the HD 2/H range
