DESCRIPTION

The conveyor section profile 90x70 F13 from Bosch Rexroth is an aluminium extrusion forming the structural backbone of F13 series linear conveyor lines. It accepts running rollers, side guides and drive components within the modular transfer system. Supplied cut to the required length - no further machining required on delivery.

- 90x70 mm cross-section, matched to F13 conveyor system components
- Aluminium extrusion - corrosion-resistant, lightweight and torsionally rigid
- Cut-to-length supply: customer-specified length, ready to install
- Direct compatibility with F13 series rollers, side guides and drive units
