DESCRIPTION

The swivel bearing 3842557298 creates a movable joint between tubes in the EcoShape round-tube system, allowing entire sections to pivot freely - the practical choice for reconfigurable manual assembly and workstation layouts. The aluminium profile fits directly into any D28L slot without additional adapters.

- Pivoting connection: swing individual system sections in or out without dismantling the overall structure
- Aluminium construction: low weight, corrosion-resistant, and built for continuous industrial use
- D28L profile slot: direct compatibility with the full EcoShape round-tube ecosystem
- 1000 mm length: covers typical extension arm and bridging applications at the workstation
