DESCRIPTION

The LF6S VA guide rod is the stainless steel variant of the Bosch Rexroth LF6 series linear guide. It locates and guides slides and attachments along the linear axis and is designed for use in humid, chemically aggressive, or cleanroom-adjacent environments. This listing covers the 1000 mm cut length (base article 3842993967, available from 150 to 3000 mm).

- Stainless steel (VA) construction - corrosion-resistant for demanding production conditions
- Cut to any length from 150 to 3000 mm - exact fit to system layout, no rework needed
- Direct compatibility with LF6 linear guide components in the Bosch Rexroth assembly system
- Low mass of approx. 9.9 g per 1000 mm unit - easy handling during installation
