DESCRIPTION

The 3842562115 adapter secures cable carriers directly within the D28L profile slot, integrating cable routing into the assembly profile system without additional components. The housing in conductive polyamide (PA) provides reliable electrostatic discharge protection - a practical requirement in ESD-sensitive production and assembly environments. Each adapter ships complete with a galvanized steel fastening kit.

- Precise fit for profile slot D28L - no modification required
- Conductive PA housing for ESD-safe cable management
- Galvanized steel fastening kit included in scope of delivery
- Lightweight compact component: 0.06 kg per adapter
- Cost-efficient packaging unit of 10 pieces
